

EMS313: Public Health for EMS Professionals

Quiz 1

Name\

ID\

Croup\

- 1- Complicated long-term consequences of a crash that are avoided because of proper emergency care on the scene represent prevention in which phase?
 - A. Pre-event
 - B. Event
 - C. Post-event
 - D. Final-event

- 2- What is the period after a patient has been injured during which he or she is particularly receptive to injury-prevention tips?
 - A. Teachable moment
 - B. Receptive opportunity
 - C. Opportunity for prevention
 - D. Responsive moment

- 3- Which of the following is an example of a positive injury prevention strategy?
 - A. Inform the parent that if their child had worn a helmet, he would not have a severe head injury.
 - B. Counsel the patient with severe facial trauma during transport that a seat belt could have prevented her injuries.
 - C. Suggest removing a loose rug that could be a fall hazard to an elderly woman who is complaining of weakness.
 - D. Take the parent and demonstrate how to turn down the hot water heater while your partner treats the child's severe burns.

- 4- Primary injury data include which aspect?
 - A. The mechanism of injury
 - B. On-scene education provided
 - C. Patients' vital signs
 - D. On-scene time

- 5- What is the evaluation of a community's population demographics, resource allocation, and environmental conditions?
 - A. Standard prevention program
 - B. Local prevention program
 - C. Local risk assessment
 - D. Community health assessment

Correct answers :

1: C

2: A

3: C

4: A

5: D